SPECIAL ASSESSMENTS

OPINION SUBMITTED BY THE AT-TORNEY FOR THE DISTRICT.

Question Affecting Certified Statements of Taxes-Request for Memorandum on Such Papers.

The attorney for the District, Mr. A. B. Duvall, today transmitted to the Commissioners an opinion upon the subject of special assessments, which is of more than usual interest to local taxpayers, especially to those concerned with certified statements of taxes The case in which the opinion was rendered was that of Mr. E. J. Stellwagen, who stated to the Commissioners that in January, 1899, he purchased part of lot 1, block 37, Columbia Heights, from Mrs. Julia S. Gillis. At the time of his purchase, said Mr. Stellwagen, he personally inspected the premises, and saw that the curb on Kenyon street in front of the lot was laid prior to the purchase; that he secured, through the Columbia Title Insurance Company, a certified statement of taxes, dated January 21, 1899, marked "No unpaid special assessments to date," and that five months afterward Mrs Gillis was served with the bill for the curb, Mr. Stellwagen suggested that he was willing to pay the amount of the special assessment, $0.27, provided interest and cost should be re-

In referring the case to Mr. Duvall, the Commissioners requested his views on the propriety of entering upon a certified statement of taxes a memorandum indicating 'pending assessments.'

For New Curb. "It appears," says Mr. Duvall, "that the assessment in question for laying curb on Kenyon street in front of block 37 did not reacn the office of the special assessment clerk for entry until March 6, 1809, and that notice of the assessment was served June 22, 1890. The act of August 7, 1894, is silent as to the time within which local assessments are to be levied. According to the authorities, assessments not made within the time required by law are invalid and will not support a tax. But assessments are not invalid because made after the usual time when the act under which the tax was levied furnishes no limitation upon of the power. (25 A. & E.

"Local assessments, however, should be levied upon the abutting property as soon as practicable after the completion of the work and when such levy is made and not before, the charge becomes a lien upon the property, collectible by the law. The notice of assessment in the case under considera-tion was served June 22, 1809, and the act of Congress expressly provides that 'inter-est shall be charged at the rate of 8 per cent per annum from the date of the service of such notice on all amounts which shall remain unpaid at the expiration of sixty day; after service of notice of such

Mr. Duvall says he is of the opinion that Mr. Duvall says he is of the opinion that this assessment is a good and valid assess-ment, and that if this is so, it follows that the request to remit the interest should be refused, on the ground that the Commis-sioners are without authority to comply therewith. As to the question of noting "pending assessments" on the certified statement of tayes he invites the attention statement of taxes, he invites the attention of the Commissioners to the following provision of the act of Congress approved February 6, 1879:

"And it shall be the duty of said collector, whenever called upon, to furnish, in addition to the regular tax bills, a certified welcome was delivered by Deputy Knight statement, over his hand and official seal, Geo. "This act," continues Mr. Duvall, "was charged as to such subsequent purchaser.

"This act," continues Mr. Duvall, "was amended May 13, 1832, by providing that the assessor instead of the collector should issue said certified statement. The notation of a 'pending assessment' would be without authority of law. "It seems to me that there would be an impropriety in noting a pending assessment. If a pending assessment is to be noted, at what stage of the pendency is it to be first noted? Many of the proposed local improvements are contained in the schedules submitted to Congress by the Commissioners a year or more before con-gressional action is taken. Should the pendency of such an assessment be noted? Some local improvements extend over siderable area, and the assessment is not made until the entire work is completed. At what point of its progress should this be noted?

E. H. SOTHERN AS "HAMLET."-E. H. Sothern and Virginia Harned come almost direct from New York to the New National Theater to open an engagement of one week Monday evening, Octo-ber 29, in "Hamlet." From a pictorial standpoint a magnificent presentation is promised-the costliest Mr. Sothern has ever been associated with. Preparations began last spring, and the scenic artists and costumers continued steadily at work throughout the summer. The revival re-ceived four or five weeks of rehearsal be-fore presentation and surpasses the biggest Shakespearean productions remembered in this country.

Fully 225 people will be employed in the Sothern-Harned production of "Hamlet" next Monday evening. It will be presented exactly as it was done at the Garden The-ater, New York. For a Shakespearean revival these figures will appear an exagger-ation, but, if anything, the total mentioned is under the mark. The following list will is under the mark. The tollow how show how the number is made up. cording to the cast the principals are 21; not less than 100 "extras" will be used in the mise-en-scene; these are described in the play book as lords, ladies, officers, solutions. the play book as lords, ladies, officers, sortiers, players, sailors, messengers and attendants. Over 80 people are required to put the play on. These are composed of scenic artists, carpenters, property men, expert electricians and calcium men, cleaners, wardrobe people and general stage hands. The magnificent nature of the scen ery, furnishings, costumes, etc., demand an unusually heavy staff behind the curtains. Second in interest to Mr. Sothern's ap-pearance as "Hamlet" at the New National Theater will be the performance of Virginia Harned in the role of "Ophelia."

"THE COUNTESS VALESKA."-The offering for the second week of the Lafayette Square Stock Company will be "The Countess Valeska," the strong romantic costume drama, which Julia Marlowe produced three seasons ago with great success. The selec-tion of this notable drama for the second week of the stock company furnishes material for a series of performances which promise to be in every way up to the very high standards set on last Monday night, when Washington was first introduced to the talented group of players engaged by Manager Frederick G. Berger. The instant success scored then by the magnificent presentation of "The Masqueraders," which is running all this week, was no surprise to those familiar with the elaborate prepara-tions made by Mr. Berger for his new stock company, which, it is hoped, will become to Washington what the Empire Theater Stock Company is to New York. The new play to be done next week, "The Countess Valeska," was enthusiastically received here three seasons ago, when Julia Marlowe presented it on the same stage which will witness its revival next Monday evening. The play is from the German of Rudolph Stratz, and the scene is Poland at the time the great Napoleon forced the Prussian states into what he christened the confederation of the Rhine. The period of the play and the locale offer exceptional opportunities for rich costuming and picturesque scenery. The Lafayette's new scenic artist is now at work on the stage settings. The cast will include, besides Miss Blanche Bates in the title role, Eugene Ormonde in the leading male part; John T. Sullivan, John Daly Murphy, Charles Wyngate, Walter Craven, Robert Rogers, Frederick Sullivan, Alma Kruger, Hortense Neilsen, Katherine Field and Louise MacIntosh.

COLUMBIA THEATER. - Commencing COLUMBIA THEATER. — Commencing Monday night Tim Murphy and a superior company will present "A Bachelor's Romance" at the Columbia. Soi Smith Russell, temporarily retired, has conveyed to Tim Murphy his best play, and has given the indorsee power of attorney to draw without limit upon the large and devoted Russell clientele. "A Bachelor's Romance" serves to present the popular comedian in a charmingly plain character, combining the artless simplicity of a reclusive vocation and the latent urbanity of good breeding. The character is kept in evidence during. The character is kept in evidence during most of the play. Tim Murphy is with-out doubt one of the best natural geniuses that the contemporary stage knows. His work has long been of the highest order, and his impersonation will be without question a study of uncommon interest and value. It was according to fitness and stage matters, when the time came for Sol Smith Russell to temporarily relinquish his work that his physical counterpart should take it up. That quaint comedian has proved that he has genius enough to depart from the methods of his predecessors in the presentation of the part of a bachelor. "It is a new character as Mr. Murphy says the St. Louis Post Discreates it," says the St. Louis Post Dis-patch; "the audience was most agreeably surprised. It was Mr. Murphy's own con-ception of the part, and it appealed to all that was good in those who saw it. It Strickland, J. Lester Wallack, Fercy Brooke, William H. Pascoe, Fred A. Thom, son, J. R. HASHIM'S ACADEMY OF MUSIC.-For next week Manager Hashim has gathered together a bill composed of stars from the grand opera, farce comedy and dramatic stage, blended together with the best acts stage, blended together with the best acts that the vaudeville market affords. Heading the bill will be the famous prima donna, Marie Tavary, who, it will be remembered, was the leading star of the Tavary Grand English Opera Company. She will make her appearance for the first time this season, and will be heard in a selected repertoire of grand opera airs and popular compositions. A second headliner will be the Russell Brothers, the famous Irish chambermaids. This celebrated pair of funbermaids. INNES' BAND CONCERTS.—Modern concert bands seem to reach the heart of the people. Innes has succeeded where symphony orchestras, operatic and concert companies have failed. It could not be charged to simplicity of music, for, as a rule, Innes intersperses his programs with the most profound works of Wagner, Mendelssohn and other masters, just as the symphony orchestra does. Two years ago Atlantic City boasted little better in the way of amusement than the 10-cent "show" way of amusement than the 10-cent "show."
Innes seized the opportunity, and, associating himself with some Philadelphia capitalists, erected an immense auditorium, which at once became the center of summer life down there. His second season, mer life down there. His second season, which has just ended, saw an attendance of close on to a million paid admissions. He proposes to take his band and operate artists on a tour, which will extend from ccast to coast. WANT WILL PROBATED.

Estate of Late Consul Williams in

A petition was filed in the Probate Court today by Attorneys Wilton J. Lambert and D. W. Baker on behalf of Mary C. and Georgiana Hawkes Thomson, asking that the record of a certified copy in the Orphans' Court of the last will and testament of Wm. Thomson, deceased, late United States consul at Southampton, England, be admitted to probate as a valid will of real property in this District.

It is set forth in the petition that Mr. Thomson died in England, leaving a will which purported to convey property inerests worth over $100,000 in England, New York and the District of Columbia that the original will was acknowledged before two witnesses at one time and shorty thereafter before another. It is alleged that as only two witnesses were necessary to pass the property in England and New York the court in the former place only included the proof of two in the probate, but that of the third being taken and attached to a duly certified copy was placed of record here some time ago. The court is asked to validate the record here under the act of 1898, conferring jurisdiction upon the Orphans' Court to probate wills as to real property.

The petitioners say that they have tried to obtain the original will for probate here, out her majesty's court refuses to allow same to be taken out.

It is said that because of the difference in the time of the signing of the witnesses and the fact of validity to obtain the original will for this jurisdiction, the heirs-at law have instituted an ejectment suit here against the petitioners, who, as devisees under the will, claim title to house No. under the will, claim titi 720 17th street northwest.
